within North Lincolnshire to date.

An overview of the cohorts agreed by the Joint Committee on Vaccination and Immunisation (JCVI) was given, along with a description of the demographic impact of the health protection that would be provided by the programme.

The Chairman and members asked a range of questions, including on how people would access vaccinations, the prioritisation of certain cohorts, uptake amongst residents and staff in care homes, and whether people would have a choice of vaccine. Detailed responses were provided.

Alex and Shaun then tabled a briefing document which discussed how the local Health and Care Partnership intended to respond to the backlog of elective procedures and interventions. Work was ongoing to enable patients to access required care at a suitable venue and time.

Several specialties had been identified as requiring particular focus, due to lengthy waiting lists or other considerations. These were:

- Ophthalmology,
- Orthopaedics,
- Urology, and
- Ear, Nose and Throat (ENT)

Further information was also provided, such as the impact of COVID-19, the need to ensure equality of access, models for clinical prioritisation, etc.

Members again asked a series of relevant questions, including on supporting staff, any North Lincolnshire specific issues, the need to learn lessons, and future changes to organisational structures. It was acknowledged that the situation was likely to be challenging for several years. However, Alex and Shaun committed to continue involving and consulting with local elected members, including via the Health Scrutiny Panel.

Resolved – (a) That Alex Seale and Shaun Stacey be thanked for their attendance and for providing answers to members' questions; (b) that the situation be noted, and (c) that the panel maintain an oversight of the vaccination programme, elective recovery programme, and any future organisational changes.
